

About the NCFA...

The North Carolina Forestry Association, the state's oldest forest conservation organization, was established in 1911. While the NCFA's role has evolved over its history, its membership remains committed to sustaining the long-term health and productivity of the state's forests through the promotion of positive public policies and education programs that address important environmental issues.

Among its achievements, the NCFA successfully supported "The Right To Practice Forestry" legislation in 2005 in the North Carolina General Assembly. This legislation provides protection for forest landowners to continue to manage their forest in an urbanizing North Carolina.

The NCFA is a private non-profit organization of 4,100 members with ties to forestry and the forest products industry. Throughout the year, the NCFA offers a variety of programs and services to forest landowners, the general public and forestry professionals that promote responsible use and management of our state's forests.

In addition to its education efforts at the North Carolina General Assembly, the NCFA trains the best loggers in the state through its ProLogger program. These ProLoggers earn continuing education credits each year to remain in good standing.

North Carolina's healthy, productive and diverse forests include over 18 million acres, covering 60% of the state.

This forestland provides the starting point for the forest products industry, which is North Carolina's number one manufacturing industry in terms of employment and wages.

Hunting Lease Liability Insurance Coverage Information

Available to landowners and hunt clubs in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia

The North Carolina Forestry Association's Hunting Lease Liability Insurance is designed to protect the landowner and hunt club members from a third-person claim of bodily injury and/or property damage caused by hunting activities. A third-person being anyone other than the landowner and hunt club members.

To qualify for coverage, the landowner and hunt club must be members, in good standing, of the NCFA. The property leased must be in North Carolina, South Carolina or Virginia and cannot be subleased.

There must be a written lease agreement between the landowner and hunt club. The application for coverage must list an authorized representative with contact information for the landowner and the hunt club. Coverage applies strictly to hunting activities on the leased property listed on the application. Both the landowner and the hunt club will receive a certificate of insurance indicating that the coverage in effect on the date payment is received.

The master policy effect dates are August 1st of the current year to August 1st of the following year.

The hunting lease liability insurance does not take the place of liability insurance unrelated to leased hunting activities. Timberland Liability Insurance would satisfy this need and is available through the NCFA through a different program. Call the NCFA for more information on this coverage.

The NCFA annual membership fee for landowners is $50 for ownership of up to 500 acres plus $0.025 per acre for any acres above 500.

The annual membership fee for hunt clubs is $75 per club. These fees are inclusive of all benefits provided by the NCFA to its members.

If you are not sure whether the landowner or hunt club is a member of the NCFA, please call (919) 834-3943 or (800) 231-7723 to verify membership.

IMPORTANT!

Please include two separate checks/
money orders:

NCFA dues for landowners and hunt clubs must be made out to the NCFA and may be combined in one check/
money order.

The insurance premium must be made out to the NCFA, but it must be in a separate check/
money order.

Note: The insurance premium cannot be prorated.

Mail the checks/
money orders and the application form to:
NCFA, 1600 Glenwood Avenue,
Second Floor
Raleigh, NC 27608

Benefits of NCFA Membership

NCFA staff actively represents its members with the state legislature, regulatory bodies and the North Carolina Congressional delegation. This representation includes direct contact with elected officials, offering testimony on key issues and conducting guided tours. The association promotes legislation that supports sustainable forest management and private property rights.

The NCFA staff provides technical assistance to members in interpreting regulations and laws that may impact forest management activities and decisions.

The NCFA also sponsors workshops for members to keep them abreast of legislative and regulatory issues.

In terms of information, the NCFA sends out a weekly e-mail newsletter, a monthly printed newsletter and maintains a website, www.ncforestry.org. These information sources keep members up-to-date on important topics and the activities of the association.

Membership in the NCFA is the best investment you can make to protect your rights as an individual and to ensure your continued ability to practice sound forest management.

For more information about the benefits of NCFA membership, please call (800) 231-7723 or visit our website; www.ncforestry.org.
